

Deep, Results Based Learning...Automatically!

The Healthy Tutor web-based chronic disease and wellness learning solution is the first fully automated, interactive multi-media solution that measures and reports the effectiveness of the learning process.

Much more than simple documentation of education, Healthy Tutor analyzes the learning process through a patent-pending 2 stage knowledge assessment algorithm, and provides easy to understand performance summaries to both the employee and health care manager.

The rich data repository created by the Healthy Tutor is a valuable source of wellness and chronic disease information for improving program management and treatment protocols.

A recent study of 110 long-term diabetic patients given a total of 1660 Healthy Tutor survey questions demonstrated a 20% improvement in critical self-management knowledge!

Healthy Tutor:

- Provides deep chronic disease and wellness interactive education with very low staff resource utilization
- Exposes knowledge deficits early to improve outcomes
- Provides ongoing self-management knowledge re-assessments and interactive education, automatically!
- Provides results based reporting for NCQA, P4P, ARRA Meaningful Use, and other quality improvement and oversight initiatives
- Automatically creates and stores a rich database of outcomes data and web-based reporting
